

Civil war in CAR

By Ugo Borga/Echo

EC | HO
agency

Civil war in CAR

Aduma , 19, and his brother Bempa , 23 , left the refugee camp Mpoko at seven in the morning . They were looking for something to eat. Their bodies have been returned this evening. Riddled with bullets . On soil that now covers Aduma and Bempa, the mother and grandmother have posed the charger of a mobile phone, a shoe , the hat of a football team.

All around the lives of a 120.000 souls with no more food, water, medicine, continues to flow noisy and indifferent. In Mpoko you die too often and too quickly , says Evelyn . Her husband Andre , 51, fell suddenly. A stray bullet hit him in the head. According to the report released by Amnesty International in the Central African Republic is an ongoing genocide. The militias antibalaka , born as a reaction to the violence perpetrated by Muslims seleka for over 10 months, are making an ethnic cleansing which caused 750,000 IDPs and 280 000 refugees in neighboring countries. Fallen on deaf ears , for now, the pressing invitations to forgiveness and peace of the imam and the Archbishop of Bangui : hate will last for a long time.

The situation in the country is desperate, humanitarian aid remain blocked at the border of Cameroon , the soldiers of the African Union and the French are not able to protect the convoy of WFP . In the same Bangui , every night , ring out the bangs of mortars : seleka and anti Balaka remain under arms in various parts of the capital .

The army has been dissolved and the military , unarmed , live hidden or participate in the looting. The economy of the country, in the hands of the Muslims on the run, no longer exists.

In Bangui missing everything except fear.

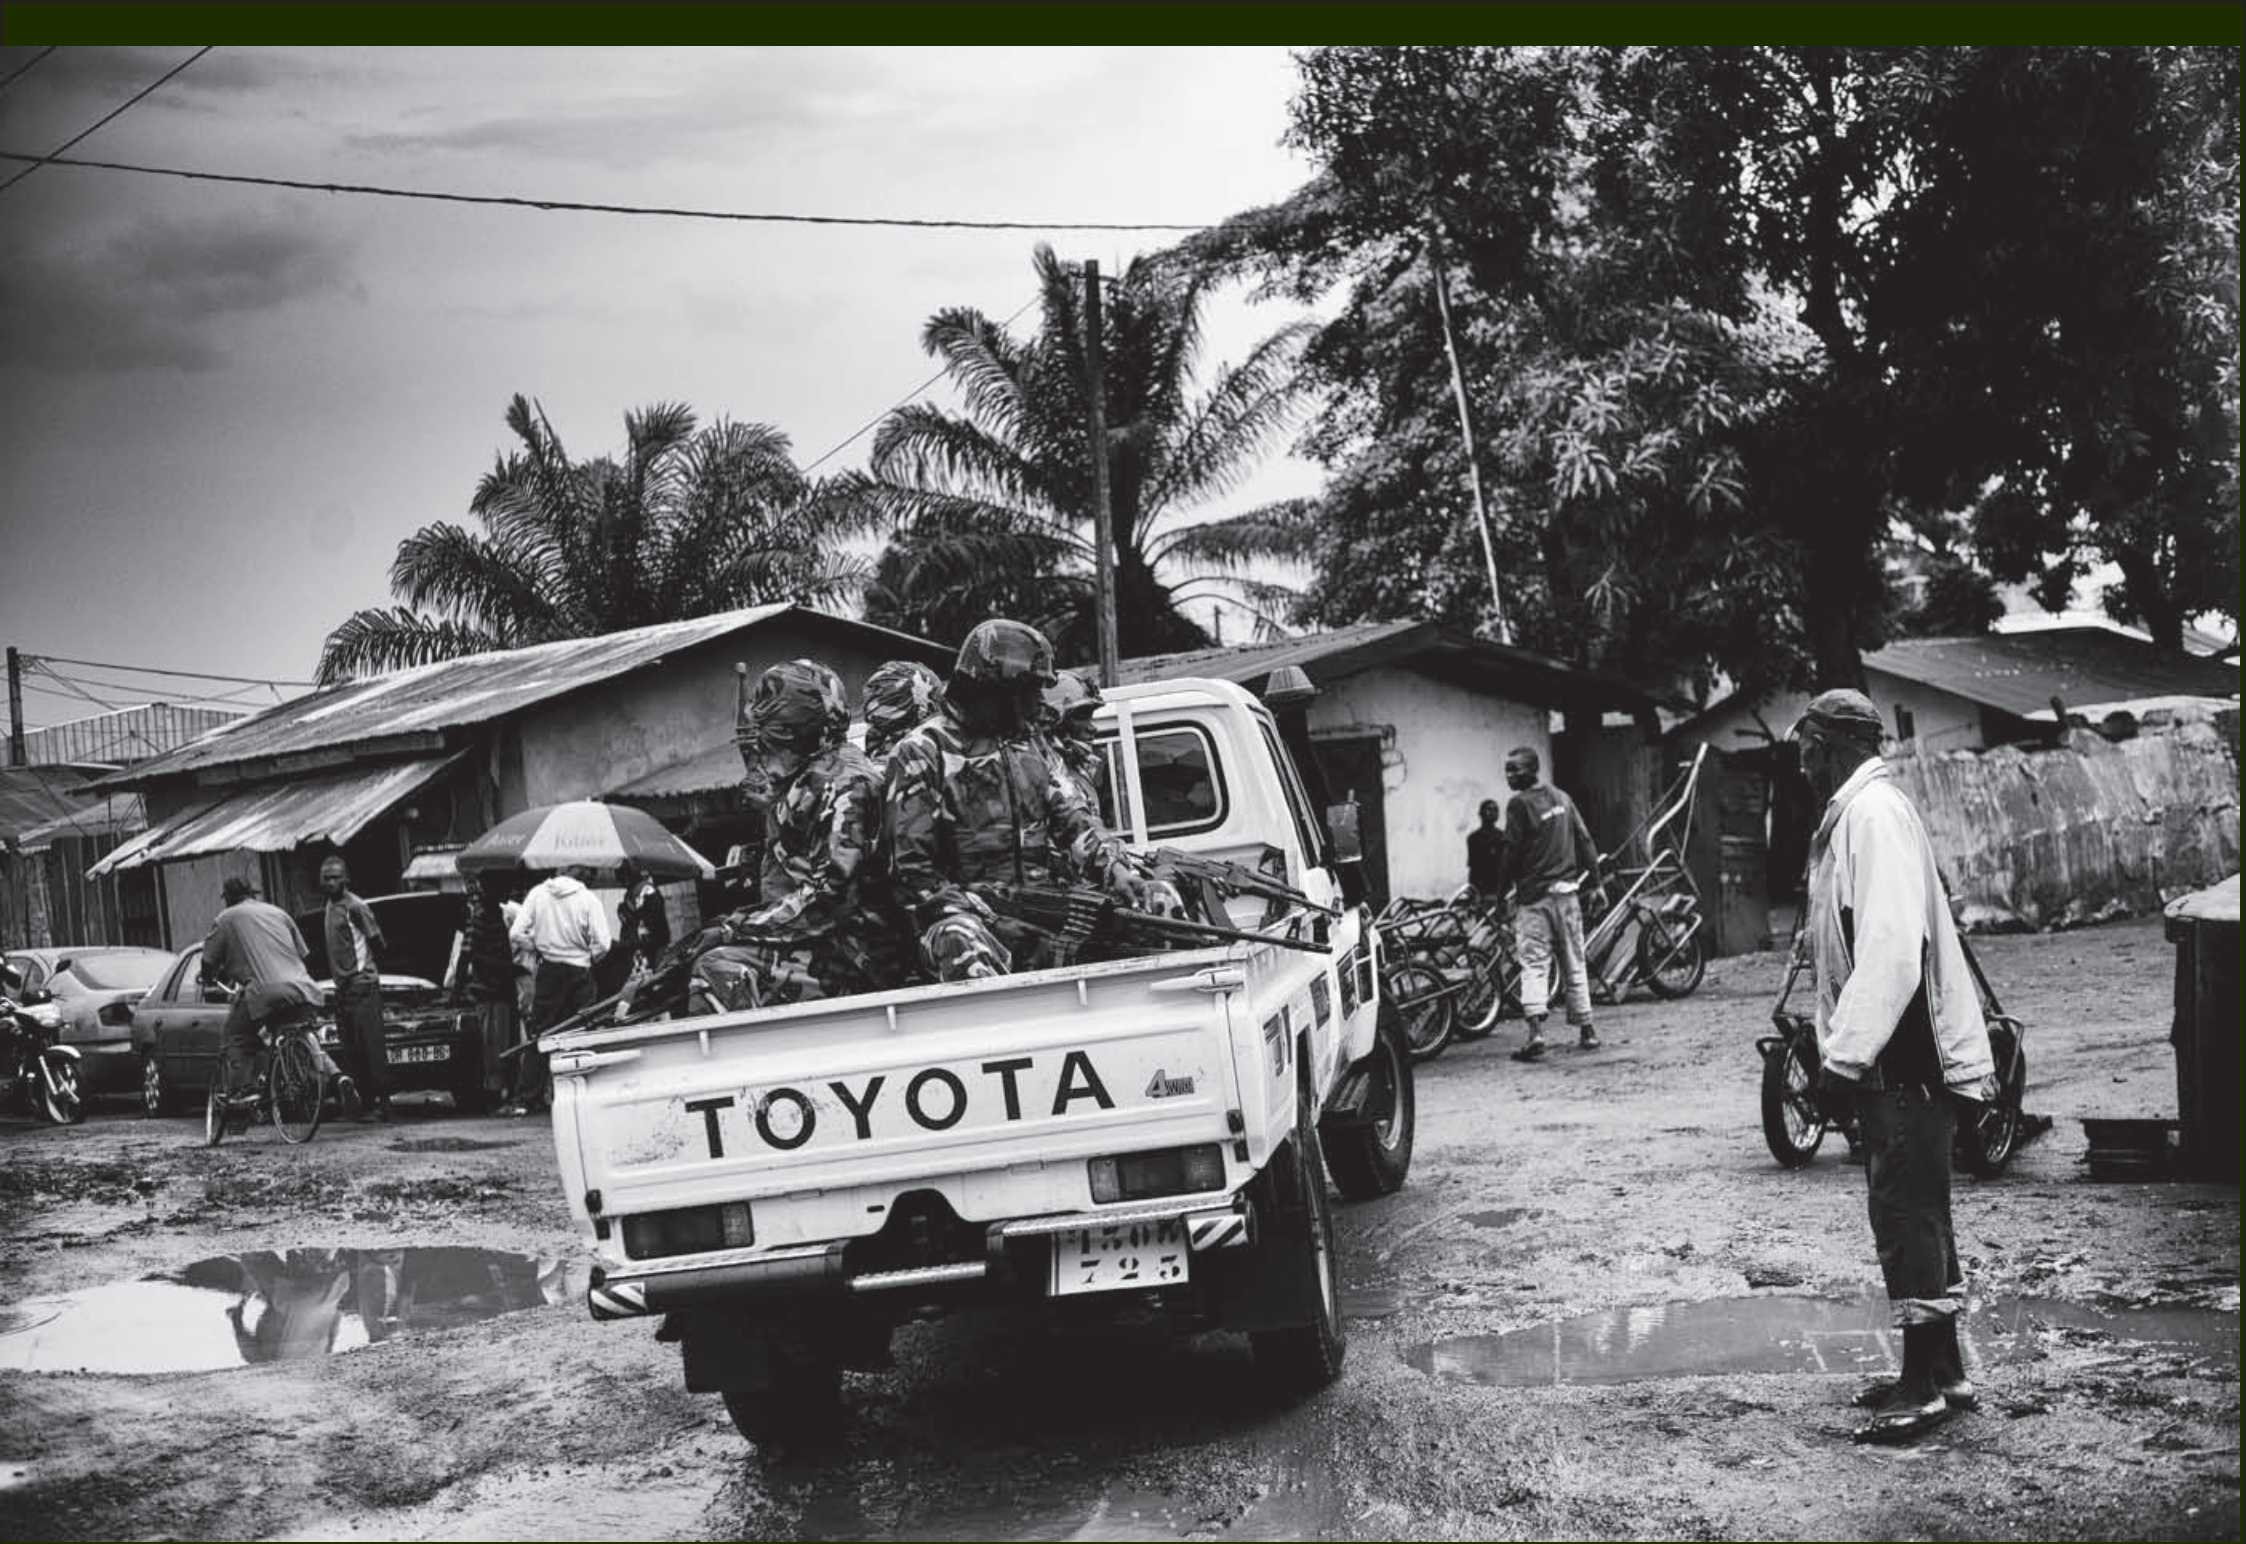

EC|HO

agency

www.echophotoagency.com - info@echophotoagency.com - +39 02 94559873